Captain of Calusa Coast Gets Top Hat for 2017

The first vessel of the 2017 season was the tug Calusa Coast and its specialized tank barge Delaware which arrived carrying liquid asphalt from Detroit to the Yellowline Asphalt Products terminal.

The Hamilton Port Authority marks the start of each shipping season with the ceremonial presentation of a top hat to the Captain of the first vessel. On March 21, Calusa Coast Captain Gary Kafcsak was welcomed to Hamilton by Yellowline's Operations Manager, Suresh Daljeet, and Hamilton Port's Harbour Master, Vicki Gruber. Ms. Gruber presented Captain Kafcsak with the traditional top hat, which he signed and dated, a Port tradition.

Close to 400,000MT of liquid bulk products transit the Port of Hamilton each year, including commodities such as liquid asphalt, gasoline, and even rum. At the Port, these commodities may be stored, blended and transloaded to other modes of transportation for local distribution.

Yellowline's terminal on Pier 22 is a leading-edge liquid bulk storage and transload terminal specializing in neat and polymer-modified asphalt cement. Drivers across Ontario have a connection with Yellowline's asphalt cement products, which have been used in the QEW, 403, 407, 401 and other roadways in the province. Yellowline's facility was designed in 2012 with the environment in mind, including dust control and recycling systems, and a unique safety feature to avoid possible overflows. Yellowline is among the Port's tenant members of the Green Marine program, which means it meets and reports on environmental standards that go beyond the regulatory requirements.

G3 Grain Silos

New Port Developments

Work is well underway on two new additions to Hamilton's Port landscape. A new grain export terminal operated by G3 Canada Ltd. is nearing completion at its highly visible location along Eastport Drive. This $50 million terminal will add valuable choice and capacity for export-oriented Ontario grain producers. Construction is also on-track at the new flour mill under construction by Parrish & Heimbecker Ltd. at Pier 10. This $45 million facility is the first new flour mill to be constructed in Ontario in 75 years. It will fill an important gap in the local agri-food supply chain, allowing food processors to create products from wheat that was both grown and milled in Ontario.

Sharing Our Harbour

We're working with community partners to help recreational boaters stay safe on the water. Together with the RHYC, we hosted two informational sessions in February and March focused on how boaters and commercial vessels can safely share the harbour. Close to 200 people attended these two events. Thanks to everyone who came out. We'll see you on the water!

Multimodal Transportation Strategy for the Great Lakes -St. Lawrence Region

HPA is proud to support the work of the Council for the Great Lakes Region and CPCS Transcom in studying the transportation network serving one of North America's most populous, and most congested regions. Looking at infrastructure, regulatory challenges, and the potential influence of technology, this study will help pinpoint actions to keep people and goods flowing, and prosperity in the region growing.
